

Support your people. Strengthen your purpose.

EAS welcomes charities and CICs into responsible AI learning through an agreed no-cost supported offer. Help staff and volunteers build useful capability while keeping human relationships and community purpose at the centre.

Shared foundations. Different pathways. Continual growth.

Trust, ethics, privacy, security, inclusion and human judgement.

Reuse the core. Tailor the application. Retain your identity.

Focus on useful tasks

Practise public-information summaries, volunteer communications, draft funding narratives and synthetic impact-reporting examples. Check every claim before use.

Protect people and trust

Build confidence in knowing what not to share, when to stop and who should review. Sensitive casework is not a default training input.

Recognise contribution

Value volunteer and staff development equally. Help people describe their learning, checked work and next steps without overstating what a certificate proves.

PLAN THE DELIVERY

Plan short, supported activities around service delivery and volunteer availability. Agree facilitator input, accessibility, review and a named organisational lead before starting.

AGREE THE OFFER

Confirm eligible participants, supported places, service scope and availability before release. The no-cost offer does not imply unlimited services or an automatic funding award; bespoke additions require separate agreement.

TRUST IN PRACTICE

Use fictional or appropriately anonymised examples and approved tools. Keep beneficiary identities, health details and safeguarding information out of general learning activities and unauthorised AI services.

CHOOSE THE PATHWAY

Use shared foundations and relevant Foundation or Bronze learning, with deeper development where needed. Additional specialist work and progression are scoped rather than assumed included.

EVIDENCE AND RECOGNITION

Review practical work and reflect on service quality, checking effort and any measured time benefit. Record participation separately from outcomes. A policy template still needs organisational review and approval.

Bring your purpose, a priority task and the people to support.
